

CHRISTMAS CONCERTS AT ST. LUKE'S

Sunday, December 3, 2023, 7 p.m.

GA. Festival Chorus Ensemble

The Georgia Festival Chorus was begun in the fall of 1987 as the Cobb Festival Chorus, under the direction of David Scott. Georgia Festival Chorus is well known for its repertoire of sacred classics, anthems, hymn arrangements, spirituals, and folk songs.

Sunday, December 10, 3 p.m.

North GA. Chamber Symphony

The North Georgia Chamber Symphony is a professional group of musicians from the Dahlonega area with a few dedicated amateurs whose mission is to bring first class classical music to North Georgia. The ensemble from the symphony is under the direction of Laurin Smith and is composed of five string players with keyboard and a singer.

Saturday, December 16, 5 p.m.

'Christmas By Candlelight'

Featuring: The Misty Mountain Singers

Randy Wilbur – Director

The Singers of North Georgia (SONG): The Singers of North Georgia is a select group of experienced singers from the tri-state area of North GA, East Tennessee, and Western North Carolina. The group is currently comprised of 16 singers who range in age from early 30s to early 80s. Formed three years ago, SONG started by caroling as costumed Dickens characters for Light Up Blue Ridge

The Misty Mountain Winds: The Misty Mountain Winds is a woodwind quintet comprised of highly experienced instrumentalists who reside in the north Georgia mountains. Each player has advanced training on his/her instrument and has played extensively with major bands, orchestras, and ensembles in the southeast. Instrumentalists include Cheryl Star - flute, Bill Star - oboe, Cara McKinney - clarinet, Tyler Smith - horn, Randy Wilbur – bassoon and Dr. Hayes Bunch – Percussionist.